4. Work Through Agenda
   a. Organizational Exchange & Announcements:
      Roberta Taylor – Premier Community Health – Premier Community Health got 15,000 colorectal home screening kits. The kits are located at Kroger pharmacies in the greater Dayton area. The kits are designed to help detect early signs of colorectal disease. People 50 and over should be screened regularly. The BCCP was awarded additional funds. They will offer mammograms and Pap test for women over 50 and uninsured. If you have questions, call 227-9400. Their office is at 23 Jasper Street.

      Mary Ann Drewry – WSU-SOPP Ellis Institute – the school is submitting a grant on bio feedback. A training grant is from the university. The clinic accepts Medicaid for assessments and always needs clients. For referrals call 775-4300 and a person can refer themselves. The clinic does not accept insurance so if a person doesn’t have Medicaid, the cost is between $10-$90 based on the family income and size.
Chris Olinsky – OSU Extension- announced training is scheduled on Friday, April 8, 2011 at 9am on the dera skin machine. If anyone would be interested in their office staff receiving training on the skin machine, contact Chris. Five counties in the area have a Facebook page, they post every Monday.

Bette Sydelko – WSU University Libraries – explains how she has access to information from the National Library of Medicine. Bette can come to fairs, walks or other events held by organization or agencies. Medline Plus is a new website to get medical information. The information is available in English and Spanish.

Angela Lunsford – Rehabilitation Service Commission – passed out a fact sheet about the Ohio Rehabilitation Services Commission. The fact sheet includes the services offered and their locations. There is no longer orientation; they have open enrollment on Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays from 9am-3pm. RSC helps people get employed if they have disabilities or barriers to get to work. Angela’s office is located in the basement in Elizabeth Place. She can be reached at 331-5000.

Sharon Becker – Good Samaritan Health Ministries – currently has their AED grant for faith communities. If a faith based community would like to apply for an AED, they can apply on the Good Samaritan website or by calling 227-9454. The grant also covers the training costs which are about $650. The deadline is the end of March. On March 25, 2011, “Grant Seeking and Resources for Success” workshop will take place at Madison Lake Learning and Conference Center. Sharon is looking for resources about childhood obesity.

Jennifer Boyd – Public Health Dayton and Montgomery County – passed out a brochure on the Diabetes Management and Prevention Program offered at Drew Health Center. The community assessment went out in the mail. If a person would like to view the assessment it is online at phdmc.org. For organizations who would like someone to come and speak about the assessment to their organization, call 225-5700.

Marianne Urban – Dayton Public Schools – continues to work with Center for Healthy Communities to get children signed up for Medicaid. The Jackson Center Preschool is now going to have the students from Gorman. There is going to be no Headstart in DPS, it will be with Miami Valley Development Center. Patterson Kennedy is going to close at the end of the school year. Eastmont, Wright Brothers and Rivers Edge Schools will all be opening.

Bill Spears - WSU/BSOM-MPH Program – reported that he will be teaching some of the Community Health Advocacy classes. The MPH program would like to place students in health and human service organizations as a practice placement. Walk! Downtown Dayton is Wednesday, May 18, 2011 12:00 noon at RiverScape MetroPark.

Greg Eberhart – WSU Pediatrics/SOAR-Net – reported that he is interested in getting parents involved in research. He is posting weekly on a blog for parents to get involved.

Michelle Randall – Good Samaritan Health Ministries – announced a workshop coming up on May 20, 2011 at Good Sam North, called A Brave New World. The workshop is about social media.

b. Center for Healthy Communities Report:
Kim C. reported the next HealthLink Seminar is March 15, 2011 on “Many Faces of Dementia” at Madison Lakes. The Medicaid Outreach Training is on April 15, 2011 at the Job Center. We have hosted lunch-n-learns at some of the public libraries for area school districts to get the word out about CHIPRA. Kim FJ and Sam have been invited to speak at schools as a result of the lunch-n-learns. The Community Health Advocacy class starts and there are currently 18 students registered.

Dionne announced the Kinship Caregiver Coalition will be hosting a free lunch-n-learn on Tuesday, May 18, 2011 at 12:00 in the Chapel at Elizabeth Place. To register to attend the lunch-n-learn call Cindy at 775-8248. The Ohio Grandparent Kinship Coalition will host the 3rd annual state wide conference on Friday, September 9, 2011. For additional information, contact Dionne. The Montgomery County Women’s Action Advocacy Network will host “Super Saturday” this Saturday, March 12, 10am, at the Job Center. Space is still available. If you would like to attend, call Cindy 775-8248. Another program Dionne is working on is “Shearing Love for Kinship Caregivers.” Dionne is looking for hair stylist to donate a service to a caregiver, only one time. The caregivers will submit a short bio and we will take before and after photos of them. The 10th Annual African American Wellness Walk will be on June 4, 2011 at RiverScape MetroPark.

Carla is working with Betty Yung on the Ohio Commission of Minority Health, providing evaluation throughout the state. They are also providing the same for the Michigan Department of Minority Health. Carla is working with the United Against Violence Greater Dayton. If anyone would like to join, contact Carla – there are a number of focus councils. Carla is also working with Sinclair Community College on a grant in science, technology, math and engineering called “Project Lead the Way.”

Kate reported the SSA is moving along. The first module is completed and moving into verification testing. Two large out-patient facilities (one in Dayton and one Oregon) have sent data for 50 patients each. Patients’ information will then be looked up in HIEX™. This will help send medical records straight to the Social Security office. Kate continues to work with getting electronic health records in doctor offices in the area. Sinclair Community College is providing free tuition for people interested in a ten-week long training for health information technology. Cohort 3 just began and Cohort 4 will start in April. Contact Kate 258-5546 or Denise Moore 512-2842 at Sinclair Community College about enrollment.
