4. Work Through Agenda

   a. Organizational Exchange & Announcements:

      Chris VanDenburgh – Kettering Health Network Health Ministry – announced Kettering Health Network purchased Fort Hamilton Hospital. South View Medical Center is hosting the 2011 Arthritis Walk on Sunday, May 22 at 12:00pm. Chris is currently teaching a faith community nursing course. The course is for nurses with experience and it offers 40 continuing education credits.

      Sharon Becker - Good Samaritan Health Ministries - announced a workshop on May 20, 2011 at Good Sam North, called A Brave New World. The workshop is about using social media for marketing. The deadline to register is Friday, May 13, 2011. Sharon will be attending a conference about fighting obesity in Covington, KY with representatives from the national level of Faith United. This meeting will include trying to get farmer’s markets connected to schools. The national representatives are interested in coming to Dayton to hold a press conference.
Jennifer Boyd – Public Health Dayton and Montgomery County – each of the departments are going through detailed assessments. There are sixty programs being evaluated and making changes during the evaluations. The diabetes program started last week.

Roberta Taylor – Premier Community Health – Premier Community Health is currently doing skin screening. There are still openings at some of their screening locations. Screening will began in September for Ankle Brachial Index. The Kettering Health Fair is on July 30, 2011 from 9am-1pm at the Christ United Methodist Church on Shroyer Road. If your organization would like a booth call Roberta, 227-9420.

Mary Ann Drewry – WSU-SOPP Ellis Institute – the school has sent out a referral survey to organizations/ agencies that have referred people to their clinic. The PATH (Preventing Abuse in the Home) program is a 26 week treatment program. The referrals come from the court and are mostly men ages 16-17. Referrals can come from other organizations/agencies and don’t need to be from the courts. The clinical training year has changed from starting with the school year to starting July 1.

Marianne Urban – Dayton Public Schools – continues to work with Center for Healthy Communities on the CHIPRA grant to get children signed up for Medicaid until September 30, 2011. DPS is still in the budget process and this could cause jobs to be cut. Medical students will be coming to Westwood and Kiser as part of Introduction to Clinical Medicine on May 13, 2011 and May 20, 2011. A program called Shoes for the Shoeless offers shoes to children who do not have any. Kris Horlacher at the Miami Valley Hospital is the chair. This has had a positive impact on the children at DPS. The program gives children a pair of shoes and socks, and then tries to follow-up after a few months to see if the children have outgrown their shoes. Their website is shoes4theshoeless.org.

Kim Upshaw – MCDJFS – has been seeing more people apply for daycare and summer camps as the end of the school year approaches. The applications for Healthy Start keep coming and there are a lot of denials because of lack of paperwork being turned in. MCDJFS has done away with the passes and now has daily passes. The self scanner is not available on Tuesday or Thursday, but the drop box is always available. Customers will not get a receipt if they use the drop box but will get one from the self scanner. MCDJFS is trying to avoid face-to-face interviews and have telephone interviews with their clients.

Marilyn Rodney – Sinclair Community College – announced Gloria Goldman is retiring. SCC is converting to semesters starting fall 2012. Two faculty members from service learning were recognized at the annual faculty award event. A diversity officer, Gwen Jones, has been hired by SCC. Marilyn oversees the Wellness Research Center, which has direct contact with getting information out to students, staff, faculty and other guests. Send information to be sent out to Marilyn. The Learn & Serve America funding has been cut at the federal level.

b. Center for Healthy Communities Report:
Carla L. reported Walk Downtown Dayton is on Wednesday, May 18, 2011, 12:00pm at RiverScape. The CHC-Community Health Promotion Program Award is taking nominations until June 24, 2011. There are two categories: a new program that has been in existence two years or less and an established program in existence more than two years.

Dionne announced Bonnie Grooms retired on April 29 but is still volunteering in the community. The 10th Annual African American Wellness Walk will be on June 4, 2011 at 9am at RiverScape MetroPark. There is a kickoff on June 3, 2011. The Kinship Caregiver Coalition hosted a free lunch-n-learn on Tuesday, May 18, 2011, about attention deficit hyperactivity disorder. There were 9 caregivers who attend and Anita Koerner from South Community Behavioral Health was the speaker. The new LINKS newsletter is out. The “Shearing Love for Kinship Caregivers” project is off to a great start. Dionne has been busy working with WAAN and AHAW.

Carla C. continues to work on the Michigan project. They had funded community grants to include crime control, community gardens, community collaboration, to get more data on race and ethnicity. Carla is also working with Sinclair Community College on Project Lead the Way evaluations. This is to get students in middle and high school a head start on careers in biomedical science to include nursing and other healthcare fields. She continues to work with United Against Violence in Greater Dayton and Wellness Matters.

Kate reported the CHC is not hosting the Annual meeting for the Health Promotion Program Award this year. Instead the awards will be announced at the next CAB meeting, July 13. Kate is serving on the Colleges of Medicine in the Governor’s Office Health Care transition. WSU HealthLink has passed all of the required tests to be part of the Nationwide Health Information Network. It is now one of six exchanges in the country. This gives us the ability to exchange live data. The medical students doing service learning are all over Dayton Public Schools providing talks on health topics. They have also been volunteering at community health centers, the Community Blood Center, service organizations, like Big Brothers/Big Sisters and St Vincent de Paul, and the Humane Society. If you would like to provide a service learning opportunity for medical students, contact Kate, 258-5546. There are 48 medical students traveling to 17 different developing countries this summer.

Kim C. reported that 13 or 14 people completed the Community Health Advocacy course. Two new sites have been added to the rotation for the CHAs. They are Drew Health Center on Monday afternoons and East Dayton on Wednesday afternoons. The rotations will be piloted for 3 months. Other sites visited by CHAs are Marilyn E. Thomas and Life Enrichment Center. They are on call at the prenatal clinics, Kings Highway and Twin Towers.
