Statement from the Chair/Associate Dean

For the Department of Internal Medicine and Neurology, 2021-22 was another strong year. We have continued to excel at our three key missions – teaching, patient care, and scholarly activity.

Academically, the Department continues to be successful. Twenty-four BSOM students applied for residencies in Internal Medicine, more than any other specialty. This reflects the quality of our faculty and residents. Our IM and Neurology residencies had solid board pass rate and strong In-Training Examination scores.

Patient care remained busy and high quality. Three members of the Department were named Dayton's Best Doctors – Drs. Bennett, Burdette, and Solomon. The incredible efforts put forward by our Infectious Diseases physicians, with the support of our residency program, allowed for excellence in patient care during the COVID-19 waves.

We had continued funded research activity within the Department through statewide cardiovascular disease and diabetes best practices collaboratives (MEDTAPP). We will have funding for this project through June 2023.

The scholarly productivity of the Department has continued to grow, with over 200 resident presentations and publications this year. Several members of the Department published papers in peer-reviewed journals.

We hope to grow the Department in 2022-23 with additional faculty members. We expect additional scholarly activity from our MEDTAPP participation and on-going educational research.
