Department of Family Medicine

Annual Report

2013

Therese M. Zink, M.D., M.P.H.
Professor and Chair

For the period including
January 1, 2013 — December 31, 2013
Statement from the Chair

The Department of Family Medicine advanced toward many of its goals in 2013, particularly in the steady progress toward PCMH certification at both its practices. Year-long, our medical directors at Five Rivers Family Health Center (Dr. Elizabeth Righter) and at Wright State Physicians Family Medicine (Dr. Donald Clark), established and led working teams, improved patient access, and focused on quality and safety matters. Dr. Clark’s Goal Oriented (GO) Teams initiated morning huddles to prepare for the day, created buy-in from employees and patients alike, and zeroed in on problem areas such as the phone tree system, and work flow. Dr. Righter’s teams established group visits for diabetics, created same-day appointments, and examined ways to deal with no-shows. Additionally, Five Rivers learned in November that its official designation as a Federally Qualified Health Center had been approved.

In 2013, Family Medicine saw an increase in patients seen by approximately 4.4% or just over 1,600 patients. This was driven by the residency program located at Five Rivers which had an increase of 12.1% in patients seen. Family Health Center office visits and nursing home visits were flat even with the loss of 3 providers and another provider out an extended period of time due to health issues. Hospital visits were down 8.2%.

The year was also notable for its transitions of leadership. New faces in both the medical school and WSP included Dean Marjorie Bowman, and Dr. Alan Marco, who took the helm of Wright State Physicians. Mike Weaver CPA became our department business manager after Candy Harper’s promotion to WSP COO. In October, Dr. Therese Zink was announced as the new chair of the Department of Family Medicine. She will serve as the sixth chair for the department.

As mentioned, several faculty either moved from the department or were temporarily absent during a heavy teaching season. Existing faculty pitched in and a locum tenens physician was brought in as a temporary measure. A search committee for new teaching-clinician faculty hires was quickly established. The recruitment effort lasted from June through the end of the year, when F. Stuart Leeds, M.D. agreed to join the department. Additional recruitment continues into 2014.

Under Dr. Amanda Bell, a large contingent of AHEC students was placed was placed in outlying sites – 18 in all. Several undergraduate and visiting medical students requesting to follow physicians during the summer in our practice were accommodated. Sixth year PharmD candidates work in the clinic alongside the medical students, patients and staff and perform quality assurance projects and in-services on a number of topics. Student scores on the Shelf Exam are above national average. The WSU BSoM received the Top Ten Award from AAFP for students going into Family Medicine.

Our residency program received nine outstanding new residents in 2013. In addition, the residency received hopeful reports of a new building for the program on the campus of Good Samaritan Hospital; negotiations continued through the end of 2013. Dr. Zryd, director of the residency, received a vote of confidence from ACGME when a scheduled review visit was cancelled in the month of May; she was told that confidence in the residency was so high that the review would not occur until 2018.
January

- 6 months since our two faculty practice-teaching sites have moved to the new campus Medical Office Building – other offices and that of the Dean are now moving in.
- Resource Calendars for absence and classroom scheduling are up and running
