MISSION
To advance the public health of western Ohio and beyond by providing interdisciplinary graduate education, research, service, and leadership.

VISION
To be the Master of Public Health degree program of choice for professionals who are committed to community and global health leadership.

VALUES
1. Core Tier 1 public health competencies as enumerated by the Council on Linkages between academic and public health practice
2. High quality instruction, research, and service
3. Educational opportunities for in-career professionals
4. Promotion of team-based approaches to address public health challenges
5. Community-based learning and service models
6. Partnership and collaboration with community constituencies
7. Understanding of the health issues, causes, and measures to improve global health outcomes and health care systems
8. High ethical standards in education, research, service, and practice
9. Promotion of population health approaches in the medical care system

GOAL STATEMENTS & OBJECTIVES which the program intends to attain its mission:

INSTRUCTION
Goal: To provide all MPH students with graduate-level education in core courses, specific concentration courses, and in applied research
Objective: To provide all MPH students with a high quality graduate-level education as they complete their coursework and applied research

RESEARCH
Goal 1: To foster the requisite skills necessary for students to successfully engage in applied public health research
Objective 1: To foster the requisite skills necessary for students to successfully engage in applied public health research

Goal 2: To conduct original research relevant to each core faculty member’s area of expertise
Objective 2: To foster original research relevant to each faculty member’s area of expertise

SERVICE
Goal 1: Faculty will participate in service related activities
Objective 1: Faculty will participate in service related activities

Goal 2: The MPH program will meet the needs of the public health workforce in our community
Objective 2: The MPH program will address the needs of the public health workforce in our community

Goal 3: Students will be made aware of opportunities for collaboration between the MPH program and community organizations
Objective 3: Students will be made aware of opportunities for collaboration between the MPH program and community organizations

Goal 4: MPH faculty and students will consult with community organizations to address a community health need
Objective 4: MPH faculty and students will consult with community organizations to address a community health need